

1,928 BILLS IN LEGISLATURE WILL KEEP LAWMAKERS BUSY

Assemblyman Cuvillier Wants a 2 Per Cent. Tax on Aliens Doing Business Here.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
ALBANY, Feb. 18.—Up to date there have been introduced in the Senate 1,928 bills and in the Assembly 1,110. Among the latest of these of interest to New York City are the following:

IN THE SENATE.
Mr. Jeremy T. Womsey of Kings County would amend the criminal code providing that an attendant, detective or other official of the Kings County Court shall be invested with the powers of peace officers.

Senator Seymour Lowman of Elmira wants the Highway law amended to prohibit persons under eighteen years old from driving a motor cycle. The age limit is now fourteen. Mr. Lowman would raise the registration fee from $2.50 to $5, and charge $1 for a duplicate instead of 50 cents.

IN THE ASSEMBLY.
Assemblyman Charles Betts of Wayne County proposes an amendment to Section 5, Article IV, of the Constitution to create a State Board of Pardons, comprising three members to be appointed by the Governor.
Louis Cuvillier of New York City has introduced an amendment to the Tax law imposing an annual tax of 2 per cent. on the capital or interest of all aliens carrying on any business or profession in the State, and on individual holdings of aliens in any firm or corporation. One-half of the revenue derived from the tax goes to the State and the remainder to the locality.

David E. Jeffrey of Niagara would exempt from the personal income tax dividends received after Dec. 31, 1921, and before Jan. 1, 1922, from savings and loan associations not exceeding $300.
Henry O. Kahan of New York City has introduced an amendment to the Tenement House law requiring that lights shall be kept burning in public hallways on all floors.
Horace W. Palmer of Manhattan seeks to amend the Election law by providing that no person shall be nominated by an independent certificate of nomination who has been a candidate of any party at the primary election held the same year.

Judson H. Wright of Chautauque has introduced an amendment to the Domestic Relations law providing that where either party to a marriage is under sixteen years of age, the Town or City Clerk shall require the written consent of a Judge or Justice of a Children's Court or otherwise of a Surrogate.

AMERICANS SEEK $50,000,000 ROAD CONTRACT IN CUBA

U. S. Firms Figuring on Construction of Highway Entire Length of Island.

(Special to The Evening World.)
HAVANA, Feb. 18.—Several American road building and engineering contractors are interested in the proposed construction of a national highway the entire length of Cuba, at an approximate cost of $50,000,000. One prominent American road building corporation has had a representative here for a week.

It is believed this highway will result in much needed diversification of crops. It is planned to tap a region much of which has never been cultivated.

American promoters have acquired the option on a vast tract in Pinar del Rio, about eighty-five miles out of Havana, which adjoins the hot sulphur springs recreation resort of San Diego de los Baños. Several of the members favor the construction of a mountain resort and an exclusive country club with select American and Cuban members.

The American Legion of Havana is arranging an elaborate programme of entertainment for Gen. Pershing, who is due here for the celebration of Washington's Birthday. He will be the guest of the Republic.

Cuba is to have a modern packing and distributing plant for native foodstuffs, according to plans of the International Sugar Corporation of Cuba. Meyer J. Levine, President of the corporation, has arrived here from the United States to push the project. Many Cubans have become affiliated with the company.

It is also planned to establish a refrigeration centre in Havana. Herbert Wohlner of Wilson & Co. and W. E. Hollis of Swift & Co., with experts, are here working out the scheme.

W. C. Thomas of Indianapolis, President of the Royal Centre State Bank, also of the Indianapolis State Bank, is here studying a way to improve conditions between Cuban merchants and American exporters and manufacturers.

A cornet mouthpiece salvaged from the U. S. S. Maine was presented to John Dolan, solo cornetist with Sousa's band. The presentation was made in the National Theatre by J. A. Roberds, publisher of the Havana Evening News.

The Methodist Episcopal Conference South is in session at Cardenas. Bishop Atkins of North Carolina, the Rev. Dr. S. H. Rawlings of Nashville and Bishop Cornwall of Baltimore are attending.

Various colonization schemes have been proposed recently since Secretary to the Presidency, Dr. Jose Manuel Cortina, pointed out the need. One plan calls for plotting farms along the proposed National Motor Highway to encourage settlers. Another would subdivide an immense area of semi-cultivated region in Western Cuba among American farmers at planting terms.

Havana is filled with American visitors. The Hotel Sevilla has many guests of social prominence. The new hotel Almendares, operated by an American company, has been filled for a week. Several minor hotels have been taken over by American operating companies.

SCHWAB'S BROTHER AND ASSOCIATE IN BUSINESS IS DEAD

Diabetes Fatal After a Long Illness—Had Lived in New York Twenty Years.

Joseph E. Schwab, younger brother of Charles M. Schwab and his associate in business, died yesterday at the age of fifty-seven in the Collingwood Hotel, No. 45 West 35th Street, where he made his home. He had been ill ten months. Dr. James F. Nagle, No. 105 East 55th Street, his physician, said death was due to diabetes. The Rev. James White of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, White Plains, was hurried to New York by automobile and arrived barely in time to administer the last sacrament of the church before the death of Mr. Schwab.

Mrs. Esther Mulhall Schwab, who ran away with the then Superintendent of the Carnegie Steel Works in Homestead, Pa., in 1895, when she was a High School girl, survives with two children, Charles M. Schwab, twenty-four, and Miss Dorothy Schwab, eighteen. Mrs. Schwab made her home in Pittsburgh. Her husband has lived in New York for the last twenty years.

Born in Loretto, Pa., Joseph E. Schwab was educated in St. Francis College there and in 1882 entered the employment of the Edgar Thompson steel works after his brother had become associated with that company. He advanced rapidly as a steel maker and in 1887 was made Superintendent of the structural department of the Homestead works of the Carnegie company and in 1894 became Manager of its Duquesne works.

His runaway marriage in 1895 with the daughter of John Mulhall, wealthy steel maker and founder of the town named after him, did not prove happy and in 1907 the couple definitely separated after previous periods of separation.

When the United States Steel Corporation was formed and his brother became President, Joseph left the Carnegie Company to join his brother in this city, as assistant. Two years later he was made President of the American Steel Foundries Company. That organization, a few years later, got into trouble with the New York Stock Exchange over the listing of its stock, and both of the Schwabs soon after severed their connection with it. About the same time Joseph retired from active participation in the management of industrial properties.

MRS. BURR M'INTOSH DENIES DIVORCE STORY

Writes Husband Regarding Report and Starts Investigation.

Burr McIntosh, actor, lecturer, photographer, has received a letter and two cable despatches from his wife, denying that she had obtained a divorce in Paris. He has started an investigation to find out who is responsible for the story.

Three weeks ago a letter purporting to have been signed by Mrs. McIntosh was received by New York newspapers, asking that an inclosed article be printed. The clipping, from the Paris edition of a newspaper, said she had obtained a divorce and told that her engagement to Rupert Huggins of London would be announced soon. It was news to Mr. McIntosh, but he thought the handwriting was that of his wife. He wrote to her about it, and she replied that the story was false, and she is trying to find out who sent it to the Paris newspaper.

New Yorkers For A Day Of Two

Indianapolis Is Getting Ready for Its Annual Automobile Race, Said to Be the Biggest Sporting Event of the Kind in the Country.

By Roger Batchelder.

"Elaborate preparations are being made for the spring automobile races at the Motor Speedway of Indianapolis," said Robert H. Espey of that city at the Astor. "That is always the most important event of its kind in the country, and while my city has become accustomed to it, we have thousands of visitors from all parts of the world each year. We expect that at least five foreign countries will compete in 1922."

"We are looking forward to a big building boom this spring," Mr. Espey went on. "For the writing of contract bonds in the insurance business indicates that contractors and architects are working overtime. Many apartment houses are already on the building schedule. Our Plaza project—a memorial to the heroes of the World War—is the biggest thing which Indianapolis has ever undertaken. It will occupy a whole block in the center of the city on the most valuable property which we have. University Place will be turned over for the scheme, and the cost, several million dollars, will be borne jointly by the State and city."

OUR JEWEL DEPARTMENT.
An authentic case of the "missing jools," which are periodically lost and sometimes found in New York hotels was on record at the Biltmore yesterday afternoon, after the $6,000 necklace of a Boston banker's wife was recovered.
She reported the loss at noon, after she had arisen from an old-fashioned Morris chair in the lobby. Possibly she had lost it during a taxi shopping tour, she admitted, but at any rate it was gone. Detective E. C. Donnelly of the hotel sleuthed around in the most approved manner all the afternoon, but without result. Then he Sherlocked the Morris chair with his hand, but found no pearl necklace. Finally, he took the chair to the upholsterers' department of the hotel, and had it taken apart. And lo! Down among the springs were the "jools." Followed much excitement and handshaking.

DON'T MISS THIS, OLD TIMERS.
Those who think that the days of the old-fashioned waltz, and the melodies which raised Ned with your heartstrings for weeks after they were played, are gone should list to Carrie Jacobs Bond, who wrote "A Perfect Day" and other melodies of sentiment, and who is at the Pennsylvania.

"The old-fashioned waltz is coming back," she assures us. "I think that the present trend of music is decidedly away from the ruffian, and toward more melodious music of a really human sort. Jazz will have to give way to melody."

FARTHEST FROM HOME.
The "New Yorker for a Day or Two" who is farthest from home today is S. Matsumura, who is at the Pennsylvania. His home town, Tokio, is about 7,300 miles from Broadway.
